Huey May Be Free Wednesday

OAKLAND (UPI) — Black Panther co-founder Huey Newton returns to the Bay Area next week and could be released on bail by Wednesday. It was revealed Friday in Alameda County sheriff's offices announced they would release Newton, 28, "the first of the week" at the California's Colony at San Luis Obispo and transport him back to Oakland. Exact time of the transfer was not announced for security reasons.

Newton is presently serving a 15-year term on a slaying conviction in the death of Oakland policeman John Frey in 1967.

The conviction was reversed because of "prejudicial" by the trial judge in failing to instruct the jury that consciousness on the part of defendant could be a sole issue.

Newton is scheduled to appear at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Alameda County Superior Court Judge Harold Hove setting of a new trial and bail setting. Newton then be freed immediately because the charge of laughter is a bailable issue.

Attorney Charles Garry tried to get Newton released on bail but his conviction was reversed but the California Court denied the request.

...were killed."

The 21-year-old pigtailed, dimunitive blonde told of an idyllic life in the hippie concept at the Spahn Ranch before the savage slaughters at the TateLaBianca homes last August.

She said she "loved Charlie" when she first joined his "Family" and thought he was what she had always been looking for—love and truth.

Under cross-examination by defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald she referred to Manson as the "Messiah" and said she actually thought the 35-year-old ex-convict who has spent most of his life in prison was "the second coming of Christ."

In an emotional exchange with Fitzgerald, Mrs. Kasabian acknowledged that she knew she would be given immunity if she told the story and that she had gone for three months after the murders without ever telling authorities the truth about the case.

Fitzgerald asked her if she knew what might happen to her if she did not testify for the prosecution. She said she presumed she might be tried for the murders herself.

"Do you understand what the penalty is?"

"Yes, the gas chamber." "Are you testifying in order to save your life?", asked Fitzgerald.

"I'd give my life if none of this had happened—for the people who were killed."

Fitzgerald brought out that the girl had lived in "group communes" from Miami to Greenwich Village, from San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury to the "Psychedelic Circus" in Boston before leaving her husband.

Fitzgerald asked her how many girls were at the ranch when she first came there and she replied there were about 20.

16 Japanese Students To Be Marina Guests

The 16 touring students from Berkeley's Japanese sister city will be special guests at Berkeley Marina ceremonies Sunday afternoon at which an imposing sundial emphasizing the sister city relationship will be dedicated.

Zenji Motomura, in charge of cultural affairs for the Japanese Consulate in San Francisco, will also be an honored guest at the ceremonies, which will begin at 4 p.m. at the fishing pier plaza.

Akira Miyamoto, official guide for the 16 Japanese young people visiting Berkeley from Sakai, Japan, Berkeley's sister city, will also be a special guest.

The sundial, designed by Frank Tomsick of McCue, Boone & Tomsick, architectural firm for the Berkeley Marina, points north and is cut at the exact degree of Berkeley latitude — 37 degrees.

THE SUNDIAL is a large concrete structure 18 feet in diameter with large bronze numerals on the sloping sides and a dedicatory plaque at the south base of the gnomon, or upright triangle.

Mayor Wallace Johnson — who will not be present due to a business trip in Europe — originally thought of the sundial idea.

It is the second major gift of Berkeley to Sakai.

"I can say," no, he is the one out west on the horse," Brinkley said.

Earlier, in an interview with UPI, Huntley talked about his plans for the future.

"I'll do syndicated programs of news commentaries and analysis," he said. "The pace will be slower and that horrible deadline won't be on my back six days a week."

Huntley said he thought television news was expertly selected and prepared and honestly presented. He said he equated the news judgment of tedly both charged with felony counts in the incident for alleged interference with the officers during the arrest, but some witnesses say their involvement was merely verbal.

In contrast to the police version of the incident, witnesses say there was no attack on the police by anyone at the scene.

Jennings said that he was in a meeting with a discussion group inside the church when he heard the ruckus and he immediately went to the scene.

He said he didn't attempt to intervene except to "cool" Pegues.

The reverend's daughter Beth Jennings, 13, said a woman rushed the arresting officer's car when police tried to close the rear door on Pegues' legs.

She said the unidentified woman was not arrested, though her's was the only physical involvement with the arrest.
