Nineteen California students made a good will visit to Sakai, Osaka, this summer, and further strengthened their friendship with the citizens of Sakai, with their frankness and openmindedness. The young good will mission, from Berkeley, near San Francisco, joined the citizens of Sakai, observing their daily life with curiosity and interest.

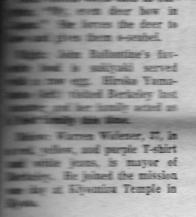

The two cities established a student-exchange program in 1968. Sakai invited Berkeley students this summer and next year Sakai will send a mission to Berkeley. Thus this program will continue year after year.
